TROPICAL STOEMP, WHAT IS IT?

A photography magazine.

No text. Only pictures.

No personal portfolios but a long story told in many voices.

For this fifth issue, we chose the song
“Gangsta's Paradise” by Coolio.

To help you, here are some keywords:

Hip-hop, street, hood, gang, bling-bling, life or death, gold teeth and hydraulic suspensions.

But you know that in Tropical Stoemp, irony is not forbidden.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE?

You send us around ten images to info@lemulet.com

before January 31, 2026.

- Unpublished images (if possible) on the proposed theme.

What resolution ?

- The bigger the better.
- Minimum A4 at 300 dpi.
- .jpg is good, .tif is better.

Le Mulet reserves the right to select one, several, or none of your images. If you were already in previous issues, you can still come back!

Important information!

- Files must be named:

firstname_lastname_number

- Please join your first name, last name, postal address and website to the application.

HOW MUCH ARE WE PAID?

Not a lot.

This is a collaborative affair.

If published, you will receive two copies of the issue.

WHAT WILL IT LOOK LIKE?

A 22 x 28 cm paper magazine.

With a beautiful A2 poster folded in the middle.

Layout by Studio Dirk.

This will not be an overpriced art book but a beautiful little magazine at the most attractive price possible.

AND WHEN WILL IT BE PUBLISHED?

Receipt of files before December 31, 2025

and release of this sixth issue in summer 2026.

WHAT'S THE THEME?

The magazine is always constructed in the same way, in music, following the plot of a story inspired by a song title.
